

Manager Day-7 Worksheet

By Friday, June 5, 2026: pick one GREEN project + one champion.

This worksheet is for the manager track. Fill it in by Day 7 after the workshop (June 4) so the GREEN project + champion is locked by Friday June 5.

Project triage

Field	Project 1	Project 2	Project 3
Project name
Kill-signal count	__ / 7	__ / 7	__ / 7
GREEN / YELLOW / RED
Champion owner
Week-1 action

The 7 kill signals (from Brownfield Decision Framework)

1. No test suite at all
2. > 50% of test suite intentionally skipped (@Disabled, it.skip, xfail)
3. CI broken > 2 weeks
4. Code review backlog > 30 PRs
5. No README and no working ./run script
6. > 3 different framework versions in one service
7. Last commit touched > 50 files

Traffic light rule

- RED -- 3 or more signals: do not pilot AI here. The team is fighting fundamentals; AI amplifies the noise.
- YELLOW -- 1 or 2 signals: pilot tightly scoped, with the champion supervising. Don't expand until the signal count drops.
- GREEN -- 0 signals: first pilot lands here. Highest signal-to-noise; the team can tell when AI is actually helping.

Week-1 action examples

- Skeleton CLAUDE.md committed to the GREEN project's repo
- Champion runs the Demo 2 6-phase loop on one feature end-to-end
- Agent View / Claude Code installed for two devs on the GREEN team
- Kill-signal triage of all team projects written into the team's roadmap doc

Day 30 / 60 / 90 leadership conversation

Day	What you tell the VP
30	GREEN project signed off; champion running 6-phase loop weekly; first measurable delta (cycle time on small features)

60 | Second project moved from YELLOW to GREEN via test-suite work; pilot delta measurable in PR-review-cycle metrics

90 | Two GREEN projects; CLAUDE.md / AGENTS.md committed in three repos; team adoption rate target ?
50% of touched PRs use the 6-phase methodology
